

A day with Mukalpur Baba

*Anecdote on Shri Mukalpur Baba
Narrated by Swami Shantananda Puri Maharaj*

A day with Mukalpur Baba

One Swamiji called Akhandananda Saraswati was crossing the Ganges early in the morning along with a few other monks for having a satsang with a great mahatma called Mokalpur Baba. At that time, he was feeling hungry and thought how nice it would be if the Mokalpur Baba were to serve with a nice sweet dish known as malpua.

When he reached the Baba's place, he was surprised when the latter served him and others with malpua. Then, they had some satsang and just when they were about to leave, the Baba took him aside and told him, "In future when you go for satsang, think of the impending satsang and not of malpua."

Great mahatmas could guess what is passing on in the minds of others even from a distance and also produce them in a jiffy.
