

Jnana leads to Bhakti <—> Bhakti leads to Jnana

THE FIELD OF KNOWLEDGE IS VERY VAST — TIME IS RUNNING SHORT & MY CAPACITY TO ABSORB IS ALSO LIMITED. I only tell the Mother:- Whatever knowledge you give me is more than enough. As a Mother you know how much knowledge this child can digest. I am happy with it.

(JNANA)

When I KNOW / ABOUT THE LORD from SCRIPTURES, GURU & DEVOTEES — I begin to LOVE (BHAKTI) him.

(BHAKTI)

If once I start loving the LORD, slowly I'll be curious to know about my beloved & then I'll come to know Him.

JNANA LEADS TO BHAKTI
BHAKTI LEADS TO JNANA

The field of knowledge is very vast – time is running short and my capacity to absorb is also limited. I only tell the Mother, “Whatever knowledge you give me is more than enough. As a Mother you know how much knowledge this child can digest. I am happy with it.

When I know (Jnana) about the Lord from Scriptures, Guru and Devotees – I begin to Love (Bhakti) him.

If once I start loving (Bhakti) the Lord, slowly I'll be curious to know more about my beloved and thus I'll come to know Him.

Jnana leads to Bhakti

Bhakti leads to Jnana