

Soordas (Surdas)

THAT OLD MAN WAS ^{SURDAS} SOORDAS
 — a blind (dante) — a singer —
 COMPOSED LOT OF POEMS
 One while travelling through forests
 to BRINDAVAN, he lost his way. — KRISHNA came & fell in a pit — KRISHNA came — he caught his hands & lifted him out & took him to the edge of the forest. SOORDAS EXCLAIMED — "YES
 I RECOGNISE YOUR DIVINE TOUCH.
 YOU ARE KRISHNA" I immediately released himself & was running away. Still — KRISHNA — To get out of the clutches of those feeble hands is not a great feat.

If you can get out of my heart,
 yes then I will acclaim you a hero.

ANOTHER VERSION IS
 SOORDAS got a darshan of KRISHNA.
 THEN HE TOLD K: — Please make me blind. With those eyes which have seen the Lord I do not want to see anything else. He became blind.

That Old Man as Soordas (Surdas) — a blind (devotee) — a singer who composed a lot of poems.

Once while travelling through forests to Brindavan, he lost his way and fell in a pit. Krishna came, caught his hands and lifted him out and took him to the edge of the forest. Soordas exclaimed — "YES I RECOGNIZE YOUR DIVINE TOUCH. YOU ARE KRISHNA." Immediately Krishna released himself and was running away. Soordas told: "Krishna, to get out of the clutches of feeble hands is not a great feat.

If you can get out of my heart, yes then I will acclaim you a hero.

Another version is Soordas got a darshan of Krishna. Then he told Krishna: Please make me blind. With these eyes which have seen the Lord I do not want to see anything else. He became blind.
